

How to get to MESI from Sheremetyevo International Airport

Use this guide and the websites linked to find your way.

We recommend that you should take the airport express train to Belorussky rail terminal. A one-way ticket for standard class costs RUB 400.

Since you will have to use the underground railway system (Metro) upon arrival at Belorussky rail terminal, for your convenience you can also purchase a one-way express train ticket combined with a one Metro trip ticket right away. Such a combined ticket costs RUB 450.

Tickets are available at ticket offices and ticket vending machines at the airport. Discounts are not available. You can click the link and see the express train timetable

Note that Moscow's Metro is a mass transit system and one of the most important modes of transportation in Moscow. See the link to the Metro map <http://mosmetro.ru/flash/scheme11.html>

Next step: after you arrive at Belorussky rail terminal, you go to nearest Metro stop called BELO-RUSSKAYA (brown line 5) and take a train to KIEVSKAYA (brown line 5).

Your departure and destination stations are on different lines. It will be necessary to transfer from train to train and change KIEVSKAYA (brown line 5) to KIEVSKAYA (dark blue line 3). Transfers can be made through special transfer halls. After changing to dark blue line 3, you take a train to SLAVYANSKY BUL'VAR.

As soon as you reach SLAVYANSKY BUL'VAR, you should leave Metro and take a shuttle bus that runs directly to MESI from 7.15 am to 10.30 pm Monday-Saturday (Sunday is a holiday). You need to find MESI shuttle bus with a sign on its windscreen saying MESI (or in Russian "МЭСИ"). MESI shuttle bus fare is RUB 25.

Taxis

Taxis are very common in Moscow, but expensive enough. A taxi directly from Sheremetyevo International Airport to MESI will cost you approximately RUB 1500.

If you arrive late and/or want to take a taxi from the airport, you can contact MESI International Relations Department, phone: +7 (495) 442-61-22, e-mail: inter@mesi.ru for arranging a trip.
